

Evaluation of the Periods by the Parents

This evaluation form enables you to assess how participating parents feel about the program and your instructors. Once compiled, their comments will guide you in adapting the program accordingly.

We recommend that you ask the parents to fill out the form halfway through the session and again at the end of the session to see if the improvements made in the interim bore fruit.

To lower the number of questions to be answered by the parents, we developed two evaluation forms: Type 1 and Type 2. Some questions are the same on both forms while others are different.

You can conduct the evaluations in two ways:

1. Distribute the Type 1 form to all the parents at the halfway point of the session and the Type 2 form at the end.
2. Divide the parents into two groups and, halfway through the session, distribute the Type 1 form to half of the group and the Type 2 form to the other half. Repeat the same procedure at the end of the session.

When evaluating your activity leaders, you must combine the parents' answers with your own field observations. To help you with this, we have prepared a form entitled "Evaluation of the Instructor by the Supervisor". The form helps you identify your instructor's strong and weak points after which you can, if you deem necessary, give him guidance.
